NO JUSTICE IN THE COURTS PEACE IN THE STREETS

On August 9th, Mike Brown was murdered by Officer Darren Wilson in Ferguson, MO. For the past few months a grand jury has been deciding if a white cop was justified in killing a young black man. This incident, like so many acts of police violence, is not an accident. The history of the U.S. is a history of white people murdering black and brown people with impunity, from the early colonizers to the fugitive slave patrols that gave rise to the modern police, from the KKK to white vigilantes and killer cops. The 'peace' that so many politicians are calling for in the wake of the uprisings in Ferguson has always been dependent on the murder and mutilation of black and brown people. It doesn't matter if Mike Brown was guilty or innocent, if he fought back or if he was killed with his hands over his head. It doesn't matter if the grand jury indicts Darren Wilson. The only way to end racist police violence is by fighting back with everything we have, and destroying the foundations of white supremacy which this society rests on.
